Red World Optimistic On Conference

Both Moscow, Peiping Say Geneva Talks To Ease Current Tension

LONDON (P)—Global communism is waxing enthusiastic and optimistic about the forthcoming big power conference in Geneva, Switzerland, April 26.

Moscow Radio, spokesman for Russia, and Peiping Radio, voice of Red China, both have heard broadcasting statements saying the Geneva parley should help to relax tensions in this jittery world.

"The Chinese people express their support for it," said Peiping Radio in a broadcast quoting an editorial in the official Peiping People's Daily saying, "Without doubt this agreement will gradually reduce international tension."

Communist China will attend the conference, but U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has stressed that the invitation does not mean U. S. diplomatic recognition.

SOUTH KOREA and Nationalist China both have assailed the Berlin decision as a sell-out of their interests.

Peiping Radio called the Big Four decision a "result of the untiring effort of the Soviet government to bring about negotiations between the big powers to seek a solution of vital international issues."

Moscow Radio said the conference should not only settle the Korean unrest but bring "establishment of peace in Indochina."

Quoting from the Communist party organ Pravda, the English language broadcast here said the Western foreign ministers at the recent Berlin conference "had to agree to holding the Geneva conference with the participation of the Chinese Peoples Republic."

It added: "There can be no doubt that this conference can help to relax international tension and to eliminate the difficulties blocking a settlement of the Korean question and the establishment of peace in Indochina."

In Berlin, the United States, Britain, France and Russia agreed to call a conference at Geneva April 26 to discuss a Korean settlement and "the problem of restoring peace in Indochina." Although Red China would be invited, the final Berlin conference communiqué made clear this would not imply diplomatic recognition "in any case where it has not been accorded." The United States and France do not recognize the Peiping government, Britain does.

The Moscow broadcast claimed the Soviet insistence on a role for Red China has "met with widespread response and approval the world over."

Atom Bombs Delivered To British Airmen

LONDON (P)—Atom bombs are now being delivered to Britain's rapidly expanding Royal Air Force, Prime Minister Churchill's government announced today.

An air ministry budget memo also disclosed British jet fighters are being equipped with guided rockets to strengthen defenses against enemy atom bombers.

It said recent successful rocket tests in the Australian desert "fore-shadow the most important developments in air defense since the invention of radar."

The memorandum, prepared for Parliament by Air Minister Lord de L'Isle and Dudley, said Britain's air budget for 1954-55 calls for increased spending on aircraft and armament. It includes large deliveries of swift and hunter jet fighters, the first deliveries of top secret swept-wing Valiant medium jet bombers and allows for the first time for some atomic bombs.

"We have made special arrangements to store the atom bombs which are now being delivered to the RAF, but I do not propose to disclose exactly how or where."

"I can say, however, that the storage of atom bombs will cause no particular safety problems."

Dem Chief Thinks Republican Farm, Power Policy 'Weak'

WASHINGTON (P)—National Chairman Stephen Mitchell is expected to advise Democratic congressmen from nine Western states tomorrow their best chance for reelection lies in attacking the Eisenhower administration's "weak" farm and power policies.

The Democratic chairman, just completing a tour of Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Idaho, Nevada, Washington, Oregon and New Mexico, has been sending back to headquarters here optimistic reports of Democratic chances in those states.

He will sit down with Democrats from those states to detail his findings. Aides said he is expected to stress what he believes is public opposition in the area to President Eisenhower's flexible farm price support program and the administration's reputed opposition to public power developments.

Although Mitchell hasn't been bearing down on the issue, he has made it clear that the Democratic high command doesn't share views voiced by some Republicans that talking about a recession will bring on one.

SOME DEMOCRATS believe that if a business downturn broadens with the Republicans in power, the minority party's chances will be increased in the voting next fall on control of Congress.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), who is running for re-election, hit the issue again yesterday when he wrote Eisenhower urging the President to reconsider his tax proposals "to prevent a recession from deepening into a depression."

The Illinois senator urged the President to get behind a proposal of Sen. George (D-Ga.) to boost personal income tax exemptions $200 as a measure of increasing buying power among low-income earners.

Democrats give every indication they are out to become the party of tax reduction, figuring that the average voter gives more attention to the taxes he pays than to statements about the government's position.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) put it into words in a speech before the Kansas Democratic Club at Topeka when he said the Republicans had adopted the "trickle-down theory" of tax cuts for business and big taxpayers. He said:

"The Republicans are for tax relief for the few. The Democrats support tax relief for all. The Democrats are anxious to stimulate our sagging economy."

Most Republicans, too, want to cut taxes. But they are caught between the desire to balance the budget and the need of keeping taxes high to do just that.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), for example, said he favors some downward adjustment of taxes but believes reductions must be limited in nature.

"I don't see the sense in our cutting appropriations down to the bone and then approving a tax cut which would destroy any hope of balancing the budget," he said.

COLUMBUS (P)—Seven persons were killed in traffic accidents in Ohio over the weekend.

This Guy Really Earned His $10

CLEVELAND (P)—To win a $10 bet, a part-time car washer with nine children carried a 100-pound box of oil cans more than two miles yesterday.

"When you have nine kids to feed and you don't have a regular job, you'll do most anything for money," Marvin Burgess, 30, said after finishing the trip. He covered the 2.1-mile distance in 45 minutes.

Capitol Hill Highlights

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) says he feels "certain" that American plans to meet with Communist Chinese delegates at an Asian peace conference in Geneva this spring does not imply diplomatic recognition of Red China.

Ferguson, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, comments after hearing a confidential report from Secretary of State Dulles on the recent Big Four sessions in Berlin, where the Geneva meeting was arranged.

Fourteen other congressional leaders, representing both parties, spent an hour and a half with Dulles discussing international affairs. They described the session as "interesting" and "informative," without elucidating.

Senators and congressmen hear a presidential message: the 1796 farewell address by George Washington, first President of the U. S.

Other floor business is put aside for the day as Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo.) and Rep. Metcalf (D-Mont.) each read the address to their colleagues in Senate and House.

TREATY POWER — Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee denounces as a "hodge-podge" White House-okayed changes the Senate has voted in a proposed constitutional amendment by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to curb treaty powers. Wiley says no treaty power amendment should be adopted now.

MCCARTHY-STEVENS — Secretary of the Army Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) line up for a nationally televised hearing before McCarthy's investigations subcommittee tomorrow in their dispute over the senator's quizzing of Army officers.

POLITICS — Fresh from an on-the-spot check of nine Western states, Democratic National Chairman Mitchell is expected to tell Democratic senators and House members from those states that their best chance for re-election lies in attacking the GOP administration's farm and power policies.

WARREN — Senate Republican Leader Knowland (R-Calif.) predicts an overwhelming vote for confirmation of Earl Warren to be chief justice, despite unevaluated charges against Warren made public by Chairman Langer (R-ND) of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Lima To Receive Special Water

CHARLOTTETOWN (P)—The Prince Edward Island Tourist Bureau shipped a bottle of Gulf of St. Lawrence water to Lima, Ohio, Saturday to help christen an aircraft.

A commercial airline will be inaugurated in Lima, which is located on the crest of the watershed between the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the Gulf of Mexico.

The Lima Assn. of Commerce decided to get a bottle of water from each Gulf to christen the first plane to enter scheduled service and asked the island tourist bureau to shoot one along.

Solon Compliments, Chides McCarthy

COLUMBUS (P)—Rep. Stringfellow (R-Utah) said yesterday Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) has performed a "great service" by revealing subversion, but he added, McCarthy "is suffering from a deadly disease—headline-itis."

Rep. Rogers (D-Colo.), who appeared with Stringfellow on the 15th anniversary presentation of the radio and television Columbus Town Meeting, said the "high echelons" of the Republican National Committee are trying to associate all Democrats with communism.

Dulles Defending His Stand On China At Big Four Meet

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles opened today, on the crucial congressional front, his campaign to convince the country the United States came out ahead in its latest diplomatic skirmish with the Soviets.

He arranged a personal report to 16 congressional leaders on his Berlin conference decision to take part in an Asian peace conference in Geneva with Communist Chinese and Russian delegates.

He has already said that in the arrangements the United States got 100 per cent what it wanted. Some members of Congress expressed fears that the Geneva conference might break the ice for ultimate recognition of Red China or "appeasement."

Today's closed meeting is the first of five reports Dulles will give on the results of the four-week session with Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Georges Bidault.

IN THE U. S., the China issue has long been vibrant. In 1952 the Republicans made powerful ammunition of the charge that the Democrats, "soft on communism," had "sold out Chiang Kai-shek."

Last week it appeared that the decision to meet with China might split Republican ranks.

Dulles, presumably speaking for the Administration, threw full support to the decision. On his arrival in Washington on Friday he said of the Geneva meeting: "The terms are 100 per cent what we have wanted."

GOP Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, a leading member of the Foreign Relations committee, said Dulles should beware of "the dangers of appeasement."

On the Democratic side, there was obvious relief to find the Republicans, for a change, on the short end of the appeasement stick, and some disposition to make the most of it. Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota asked assurances against recognition of Communist China.

James Richards, South Carolina representative and a member of the Foreign Affairs committee, said: "If Dean Acheson and not Dulles were secretary of state, the Republicans would have been howling all over the river, pulling out the name of Alger Hiss, and raising hell in general."

IN A MOVE to reassure uneasy legislators, Dulles is stressing that the forthcoming parley with the Communists, set for April 26, does not foreshadow formal American diplomatic recognition or membership in the United Nations for the Peiping regime.

The secretary is reported ready to argue that the terms agreed upon were necessary in order to cut through the deadlocked preliminary peace talks at Panmunjom, which had been stalled since last Dec. 12.

The secretary plans to follow up today's meeting by reporting tomorrow to the full House Foreign Affairs Committee in a closed door meeting. On Wednesday he is to give an accounting to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He is to give a nationwide 30-minute radio and television report to the nation Wednesday night.

In between these assignments, he plans to give a detailed report to President Eisenhower after the President returns from his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation Wednesday.

Yankees Give Indians Escort Out Of Korea

SEOUL (P)—American troops, jabbing with bayonets, chased off without apparent bloodshed 200 to 300 South Koreans who early today tried to halt a train carrying homebound Indian soldiers.

The Koreans were cleared from the tracks after some minor jabbing and shoving, and the train continued to Incheon port without incident, the 8th Army said.

However, Kim Chag Heung, vice chief of South Korea's national police, said American tanks were called to the scene. He denounced what he called the 8th Army's "heavy countermeasures" against "a righteous move by indignant men."

An American officer said the anti-Indian demonstrators were cleared in about 30 minutes, shortly after midnight. They had massed on the railroad embankment and had lighted bonfires.

The incident was the first show of interference which South Koreans had threatened against the Indians.

Both the 8th Army and South Korean police reported they knew of no injuries in the demonstrations, three miles north of Seoul.

A South Korean police official who said he was present reported that some of the group were former prisoners of war turned loose by the Indians last month.

Indochina Ceasefire Urged By Nehru

NEW DELHI, India (P)—Premier Nehru called today for a cease-fire in Indochina "since it would seem a tremendous pity that this terrible war should continue when a serious effort to meet and discuss this problem" is scheduled April 26 at Geneva.

"It is desirable, I think, to have some kind of cease-fire without any party giving up its position," Nehru told parliament.

Did Neighbors Have Nice Dinner?

CLEVELAND (P)—E. Pierce Lake put the final touches on an eight-pound steak he had cooked on an outdoor grill and then went inside to call out the family.

The steak had vanished when they got outside.

It couldn't have been a dog, he said sadly, because a five-foot barbecue fork was missing, too.

Pope Still Feeble

VATICAN CITY (P)—Pope Pius XII, convalescing and still very feeble after a month's illness, will observe his birthday in his Vatican apartment. He will be 78 years old March 2. That also is the anniversary of his election to the pontificate 15 years ago.

Stevens Tells Officers To Shun Subpoena

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), fresh from a running clash over McCarthy's interrogation of Army officers, meet face to face Thursday.

Turned down twice in two days on demands he made to the Army, McCarthy has summoned its civilian head to appear before his Senate investigations subcommittee here Thursday morning. The session had been scheduled for tomorrow but it was postponed. No reason was immediately given.

He said Stevens would be asked to explain what the senator termed an attempt by the Army "to coddle and promote Communists."

Stevens said he received no official notification, but would be glad to appear. That was after he had ordered two generals not to comply with calls for their appearance before McCarthy's subcommittee.

Objecting to the humiliation he said was inflicted on one of them at a hearing by McCarthy last week, Stevens said, "I cannot permit the loyal officers of our armed forces to be subjected to such unwarranted treatment."

THE SECRETARY himself served as an Army officer in both world wars.

He said he was afraid the "prestige and morale" of the military would be weakened by "unfair tactics on our officer corps."

Tomorrow's hearing will be public and will be telecast by the National Broadcasting Co.

The dispute arose over an incident in a closed hearing in New York last Thursday, when the Wisconsin Republican was interrogating Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commandant at Camp Kilmer, N.J.

DURING THIS hearing, Zwicker reported to his superior officers, McCarthy insulted him. The general made a report of the incident and after the report was sent to Washington, Stevens took it to Capitol Hill and gave a memorandum on it to senators on McCarthy's Committee on Government Operations. LOS ANGELES (P)—The First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles yesterday voted 206 to 31 to challenge a state law requiring a loyalty oath of nonprofit organizations seeking tax exemption as "a frontal assault on freedom of religion as guaranteed by the First Amendment."

TOKYO (P)—Japan's political crisis boiled up anew today as a political opponent of Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida indirectly accused two Cabinet ministers of accepting million-yen bribes from a shipbuilding company.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (P)—Vacationing President Eisenhower will return to Washington Wednesday morning and get a report on the Berlin Big Four conference a few hours later from Secretary of State Dulles.

Overwhelming OK Of Warren Seen

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) predicted today Chief Justice Warren will get an "overwhelming" vote of confidence when his appointment to the Supreme Court reaches the Senate.

Knowland, Senate Republican leader, said he expects the Senate Judiciary Committee to approve Warren's nomination Wednesday. Approval would send the appointment to the Senate for action probably Friday.

The California senator said he thinks most of his colleagues will agree with him that unevaluated and unsupported charges read into the record of a judiciary subcommittee last week over the protests of some members are "not worth any serious consideration."

Under this year's program there will be but two games Wednesday night—between the winners of the Williamsport-Monroe tilt and the Walnut-Scioto battle, and the losers in the Monday night upper-bracket contests.

These matches will set up the early half of the sensational Friday night finals.

Wednesday night, the second of the three evenings of cage play in the final week, will find the two top tournament teams taking a rest before Friday night's finals.

Big Holiday Tourney Card Set

A huge throng of Washington's Birthday holiday basketball fans is expected to be on hand in the Circleville Fairgrounds Coliseum Monday night when the big 1954 Pickaway County League Tournament enters the home stretch at 6 p. m.

It will be the biggest cage card in respect to the number of teams in action, in the final week of tourney play.

Featured will be two major clashes in the semi-finals winners' bracket, and two ding-dong battles in the losers' category.

Opening Monday night's tourney card at 6 p. m. will be the Williamsport Deers versus the Monroe Indians, with the Deers still listed as odds-on favorites to capture third place in the tournament.

SECOND GAME of the evening is scheduled between the Walnut Tigers and Scioto Buffalos at 7:20 p. m.

This will finish off the lower committee on investigations is a part of this group.

According to the memorandum, as reported by two of the senators and verified at the Pentagon, McCarthy had said to Zwicker, who has been decorated thirteen times:

"You are a disgrace to the uniform. You're shielding Communist conspirators. You are going to be put on public display Tuesday to all the world to see. You're not fit to be an officer. You're ignorant."

When other senators heard the Army's version of this remark, they got in touch with McCarthy. They were told that the official transcript of the hearing did not show any such remark, but one member of the committee said there were witnesses present during the incident. He added that the official stenographer would be subpoenaed if necessary in order to get the facts.

On Friday the Army let go by a deadline McCarthy had set for it to produce the names of all personnel connected with the promotion and honorable discharge of a reserve officer who had declined to say whether he was ever a Communist. The information has not yet been given the senator.

McCarthy said in New York yesterday that the reserve major involved, Dr. Irving Peress, a dentist, was "commissioned, promoted, saved from overseas orders and awarded an honorable discharge, all despite an open record of active membership in the Communist conspiracy."

In his investigation of the Peress case, McCarthy last week summoned Zwicker to a closed hearing.

At one question the general said: "Even if I knew the answer, I wouldn't be allowed to tell you. I am forbidden by regulations." The regulation he referred to is a presidential directive forbidding disclosure on security investigations to anyone outside the executive department, and directing that such inquiries be referred to the President.

Afterwards McCarthy, who conducted the hearing without any of his subcommittee colleagues, said the general had acknowledged knowing about the subcommittee's purported evidence against Peress.

But Zwicker told reporters McCarthy "gave a colored and slanted version of my testimony, twisting everything he could."

McCarthy subsequently summoned Zwicker and Maj. Gen. William Bergin, Army adjutant general, to a hearing.

Then Stevens stepped in, forbidding their appearance and charging that Zwicker "suffered humiliating treatment" when he carried out the orders of his superiors.

McCarthy said "Stevens is a loyal man, but apparently is being made a dupe by holdovers from the previous administration."

New Tow Target Used By Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army ordnance announced today development of an anti-aircraft tow target specially designed for high altitudes and high speeds.

The craft, designated XM24, was developed by Bellanca Aircraft Corp., New Castle, Del.

The Army said it has long needed a target craft to replace the outmoded sleeves or banner-type targets for the training of radar and gun crews.

On Her Birthday, Wife Kills Mate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three years of turbulent married life ended violently on Mrs. Edna Aaron's 21st birthday. Police said she shot her husband nine times.

Her husband James, a 33-year-old truck driver, died in a hospital an hour after the shooting yesterday in their apartment.

Mrs. Aaron, a waitress, was held without charge. Police quoted the attractive brunette as saying she felt she had to separate from Aaron, but that he had said he would never let her leave.

Bender Hopes To Collect Big Headlines

Rackets Investigation Being Timed With His Campaign For Senate

COLUMBUS (P) — Congressman George H. Bender of Cleveland expects his racket investigation to produce headlines during his campaign for U. S. senator.

The seven-term representative heads a government operations subcommittee looking into juke box and other labor-connected rackets in Ohio and other states.

The inquiry gives Bender a big publicity bulge over his lesser-known opponent for the Republican nomination in the May 4 primary election.

But challenger William Saxbe of Mechanicsburg, Ohio House speaker, may have found a less spectacular publicity vehicle of his own.

The fourth term state representative recently took the chairmanship of a hand-picked legislative committee to study utility rate revision in Ohio. The committee will report to the Legislative Service Commission on recommendations for next year's Legislature.

While a utility rate study lacks the drama of crime-busting, voters now paying higher gas and electric bills could become quite interested during an election year in a candidate who considers reductions.

Voters know rackets are costly. But that cost doesn't show up in the mail every month like utility bills. A well-conducted study of Ohio utility rates might develop considerable headline appeal for Saxbe.

The last Legislature for a time considered substituting a "fair value" rate formula for the present "reproduction cost" method of fixing utility rates in Ohio.

Legislators termed the present formula outmoded but couldn't agree on a change. Saxbe said work could form the basis for a further study that should include a look at rate formulas of other states.

Rep. John J. Chester Jr. of Columbus, a Saxbe supporter, played a major role in the legislative efforts and is a member of the new study committee.

Saxbe, who recently received his first endorsement by a big city newspaper, got another break this week. The Butler County GOP Central Committee endorsed him.

The surprise move gave Saxbe his first official party backing in a large county. Bender, Cuyahoga County GOP chairman, carries the state Republican committee endorsement.

Reports said the Butler County endorsement followed committee debate over Ohio's beleaguered axle tax on big trucks. Present as a guest, Saxbe was drawn into the argument. He reminded committee members the Republican-dominated 100th General Assembly enacted the tax and that the party should defend it against widespread attacks.

Saxbe's friends all but abandoned hope of backing for him until a committee member created a stampede by observing:

"It looks like we've got another Bob Taft here. This guy has guts. I like that whether we agree with him or not."

A stout endorsement of Saxbe followed. It came as a surprise because the committee before the meeting reportedly planned to take no stand.

Winner of the Bender-Saxbe nomination battle will face Sen. Thomas A. Burke, who is unopposed for the Democratic nomination, in the November run-off election.

Burke, former Cleveland mayor, was appointed to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's seat until after election of a successor to serve out the remaining two years of Taft's six-year term.

Taft, Senate Republican leader, died July 31.

Theater's Comedy Shields Holdup

LOS ANGELES (P) — Movie patrons watched a comedy at a theater while two bandits put on their own melodrama in the manager's office—and left with $2,200.

David Draper, assistant manager, told police he was approached by a gunman yesterday and forced to open the safe. The gunman took $1,500 and then demanded the receipts from the box office.

Lacking the keys, Draper was forced to call the manager. Meanwhile, Draper was tied up and two movie patrons who wanted to lodge a complaint with the manager, plus a curious newsboy, were herded into the manager's office.

The manager, Don Gibbons, arrived and the two robbers got $700 more from the box office.

So she has registered for a home economics course at the University of Oklahoma.

'Most Wanted' Fugitive Nabbed

ATLANTA (P) — A 32-year-old Tennessee who was one of the FBI's 10 most wanted men has been arrested on charges of burglarizing a grocery store.

Nelson R. Duncan of Memphis was picked up yesterday morning by city police after a routine check of a store aroused the suspicion of officers.

Nelson and a man listed as Thomas L. Sirey, 21, of Springfield, Tenn., were tearing open a safe which contained about $2,000 when police found them, Detective H. J. Standridge reported.

The two men were unarmed and did not offer resistance, police said.

The FBI says Duncan is wanted on charges of interstate transportation of a stolen automobile, unlawful flight to avoid prosecution and violation of the federal fire arms act.

LOS ANGELES (P) — A maximum of 85 yesterday in Los Angeles and San Gabriel made them the warmest spots in the nation. The mark was a 73-year record for the date in Los Angeles, eclipsing the 1896 high of 81.

Yule Lighting Fund Shows $431 Balance

Contributions that made Circleville's downtown Christmas lights possible last Yuletide came to a final total of $3,168.49, Henry Reid, treasurer of the Christmas Lights campaign, reported. The fund now has a balance of $431.68.

An elaborate set of multi-colored overhead street lights has been obtained as the community's permanent property, and is now being held in storage until the gay trimmings are used again next Christmas season. It has been emphasized the lights will not be available for any other purpose during the year. No cost to the city was involved.

The bedecked appearance of the downtown sector during the year-end holidays drew high praise for all those who made the campaign a success. With only a few exceptions, the list of contributors included all of the community's largest firms. Civic groups and scores of individuals likewise donated to make the trimmings possible.

The colored bulbs, strung overhead for at least a block in all directions from Main and Court, were donated to the community by the local branch of General Electric Co.

APPROXIMATELY $1,000 of the fund collected went to a Columbus concern for the bulk of the equipment, including wire, sockets and the like. Installation of the lights here and power consumed was figured at $1,518.34.

The happy story of the Christmas lights campaign had a tragic footnote when George Fishpaw, Circleville merchant and outstanding leader in the drive, was fatally stricken with a heart attack after helping store away the equipment. He was chairman of the committee in charge.

Ohio-Born Movie Director Is Dead

PASADENA, Calif. (P) — William K. Howard, 54, who entered the motion picture business as a theater manager and became a leading director, died yesterday.

He had been suffering from a throat ailment for more than a year.

He began directing pictures in 1924. Some of his top productions were "This Side of Heaven," "Johnny Come Lately," "Thundering Heard," "The Valiant," and "When the Lights Go On Again." He was born in St. Mary's, Ohio.

SOCIAL IMPLICATIONS

PEOPLES ARE sometimes known by what they quaff—the French and Italians wine, the Germans beer, the Scotch whiskey, the Russians vodka, and so on.

Americans have become known as coffee drinkers, although some have been known to develop a fondness for the habits of other peoples. They quaff coffee hot and cold, black and white, with sugar or without. Their addiction to the beverage has caused some imitation among other peoples, with the result that there is a shortage of the coffee bean. Americans will continue to get their coffee, but at a price that would have been considered extortionate several years ago.

There have been suggestions that Americans switch to tea or cocoa until their favorite beverage is again in more plentiful supply. But this is like asking the French and Italians to give up or reduce drinking their wine, Germans their beer or the Scotch their whiskey. Whether this is like asking the Russians to give up their vodka is a moot question. Probably a Russian would be a Russian if he drank only water.

There is a social implication connected with the inability of most peoples to get their favorite quaffing liquid. Society somehow seems to lose its center of gravity.

The problem raises interesting possibilities. Perhaps a variety of coffee could be produced that would grow along the Gulf Coast, thus overcoming the shortage and giving Texas something else to brag about. How about synthesizing coffee. Perhaps if scientists concentrated hard enough they could develop a market in the synthetic coffee field for the government's surplus wheat and corn.

STOCK MARKET INDICE

NEW YORK STOCK Exchange, while engaging in the usual backing and filling, has inched upward in recent weeks. The stock market, which traditionally is credited with forecasting business trends six months in advance, seems to be unimpressed by the prophets of gloom.

In fact, there are increasing indications that those who "fear"—but sound as if they hope for—a depression are being routed. Retail sales are on the upgrade again, and executives of large retail businesses profess to see a continued upswing as the pre-Easter spring buying season gains momentum.

Among the factors most frequently pointed to as contributing to continuation of business activity at near record levels are government spending at a high rate despite budget cuts, reduction of inventories which had become unmanageable, and an easing of credit by the Federal Reserve Board. Probably easier credit is the main factor involved.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The effort to operate a non-political administration in a political country is falling apart. The theory that patronage is a great evil to be eschewed by a Republican President is having this effect; when a Republican applies for a job, he is rejected for being a politician. What is wanted are career men, and most career men, after 20 years of Democratic rule, are mostly Democrats.

That is what all the shouting has been about over the Lincoln Birthday week and those who have traveled hither and yon, delivering speeches on the greatness of Abraham Lincoln, have come back to Washington chagrined and frightened because unless the Administration becomes political, the Democrats will win the 1954 Election and possibly that of 1956. That is very discouraging news to the Republicans, particularly those who are important men in the newspapers but who have no way of cutting through the White House entourage to the President. They have no way of telling him the simple facts of political life as they see them.

Next March, the Republicans are going to celebrate the 100th Anniversary of the founding of the party at Ripon, Wisconsin. This should be a lively affair, stirring this party to an emotional outpouring on the verge of a Congressional campaign. Having a President in the White House, Republicans would like to have their President at Ripon delivering a major address on the virtues of this party. It does not seem logical that so significant an event should be minus this leading personality.

It is now understood that the President does not choose to go to so strictly a partisan affair, even though the enthusiasm kindled there might bestir his party to unity and victory. Many rumors attend this decision, although I cannot vouch for the truth or falsity of any of them. Some say that he avoids Wisconsin because it is the state of the redoubtable McCarthy; others say that the decision was taken because of C. D. Jackson's psychological warfare theory that the President should be above politics, a monumental figure without a pedestal. Others say that it is the President's disposition to avoid such occasions, although all admit that his impromptu address at the Lincoln Birthday Box Supper in Washington was an excellent performance, breathing sincerity and warmth.

In fact, it is recognized that President Eisenhower makes a better speech on his own than with the assistance of his speechwriters, who are acclaimed as very second rate, in no manner equal to the ghosts employed by Roosevelt and Truman. When the President stands up to talk without even a note, out of his own head and heart, it is usually a good speech, whereas the manufactured stuff, staff-written, seems to lack both body and soul. At Ripon, he would have a wonderful opportunity to establish his leadership over a leaderless party.

A Medical Use for Plastics

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
PLASTICS have become most valuable medically in their latest uses.

Scientists have long been trying to find substances that possess the qualities of permanence, lightness, resiliency, ease of molding, and inertness which are so typical of human tissues.

Metals were tried, and found wanting. Recent developments in plastic sponges seem to indicate that such a substance is almost a reality now.

A type of formalized sponge has been used to eliminate many of the spaces created by certain types of chest surgery. This substance does not cause any irritation within the body. It acts like a normal part of the body tissue. Even the human body tissue enters this plastic sponge, making it look almost like a living tissue.

Finely Textured

This type of sponge is snow-white in color and of a very fine texture. It is rather stiff when dry, but very soft and compressible when moist. It takes to water readily.

Surgeons have been searching for many years for material that could fill up spaces left by organs that had to be removed. This could prevent many of the complications of lung surgery. It would seem that this new plastic substance would serve in this manner.

In Treating Tuberculosis

This plastic sponge is also being used by chest surgeons for treating certain cases of tuberculosis. It is inserted between the lining of the lung and the lung itself, and is used to collapse the diseased lung tissue and put it at rest.

Recently, this plastic sponge was used to bolster weak arteries. It was sewed around many arteries which had developed a weakness in the wall, a condition which could have caused a fatal hemorrhage.

It is not yet known if there will be any adverse effects from this use of plastic sponge. The project is, as yet, in the experimental stage.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

A. I.: Is it true that some persons can run an elevated temperature without being sick?

Answer: The temperature of 98.6° is considered average. However, some individuals do run a persistently higher temperature without being sick. A higher temperature may be normal for them.

The Doctor Disagrees

By Elizabeth Seifert

SYNOPSIS
Dr. Stephen Carr is about to leave his native Norfolk in the mid-west, for Army duty in the Pacific. He has arranged with his old friend, Dr. Craig Talbot, a skilled physician, to come to Norfolk from a distant city for the purpose of taking over the Carr medical practice. Talbot arrives and is warmly greeted by Carr and his gracious wife, Shelly, at dinner in their home. Shelly is struck by the dark handsome Talbot's dynamic force, his charm and sense of humor and especially by his generally held opinion of the medical profession as a whole. Fearfully, she wonders whether her husband's patients will find this bluntly frank nonconformist, acceptable as their doctor.

CHAPTER EIGHT

"WAS Dr. Talbot also just being—shocking—in what he said about the Medical association?"
"Well," hedged Stephen, "they aren't the same."

"Is he in bad trouble, Stephen? I mean, this losing his last job?"
"Not really bad trouble. The hospital asked for his resignation, as it had a right to do. There was perhaps a certain amount of smear which prevented his immediate placement elsewhere. That's the methods he claims the association uses to enforce its opinions, and protect its system, and as I said, his claims are constantly being borne out."

"Has he promised to behave here?"
"Certainly not!" Stephen laughed. "I haven't asked him for any such pledge. One, because he would have kicked me squarely in the teeth. Two, because I think a man like Talbot should be allowed to work no matter what he says or does, as a surgeon and as a diagnostician—and he should be judged on that basis alone."

Shelly laid her cheek against his shoulder. "I'm glad you gave him the job, Stephen. I'm proud of you for doing it."

"Well, I'm sorry for the guy. And then, too—it isn't that I always agree with Craig. I don't! And I certainly deplore the hatchet methods he often uses. But—oh, while I haven't the personal guts to be an out-and-out radical myself, I am glad to be able to offer a hand to a free soul like Talbot."

"You worked under him," didn't you?"
"He was an instructor in medical school," Stephen agreed. "But he himself was still in training—as a resident—and moved on after a year. Incidentally, Craig's opinions on medical schools are interesting. For one thing, he says that the only good schools are the ones who use the preceptor system. That's where the students of medicine," he went on thoughtfully, "quite early in their studies, begin to work along with practicing doctors. Wisconsin started it, several other schools now use the method, and it is successful. But there are also good medical schools which do not use it."

"What is your stand?"
"I like a combination of both."

"Can't you persuade Dr. Talbot?"
"Don't need to. He likes both, too. But he seems to endorse the preceptor system alone, and his constant plugging for it improves the clinical service of all the schools, if only through an effort to prove him wrong."

"Is he that important? To the whole association?"
"He's a gadfly. A mosquito doesn't look like much against a man, but—"

Shelly laughed softly.
"The point is," said Stephen firmly, "Craig is a good doctor, and he should be allowed to work. He is a man of ideas; his fertile brain stirs up medical ideas as well as controversy."

"Stephen," she said in a troubled tone, "if Dr. Talbot is as good as you say, he won't be happy here in Norfolk, will he?"
Stephen chuckled. "I don't think there is anything," he said deeply, "that could surprise Talbot more than happiness."

Shelly opened her eyes with three thoughts crowding into her mind. It had snowed, but the sun was shining. She must get some yellow flowers for the table against the wall; pink did not give the right effect. And, the fourposter was entirely too wide for her alone.

Then she reached her arm for the jangling telephone; it had better be for her! Harry should have answered it downstairs—he got no better as the days went by.

"Hello?" she said into the black mouthpiece.
It was Miss Cobb, Stephen's office girl. Shelly quibbled at the clock beside the bed. Nine exactly.

"It's quite all right, Miss Cobb," she said pleasantly. "I sleep too late, I'm afraid. I've got into the habit of reading until all hours."

Miss Cobb's excited voice took over. She was, the gist of the matter went, quitting her job. She had, in fact, already quit. She'd told Dr. Talbot so the evening before. But this morning she'd got to thinking, and she realized that loyalty to Dr. Carr should make her tell the doctor's wife that she had quit—and why.

"Did something happen, Miss Cobb?" asked Shelly.

"Oh, Mrs. Carr!" wailed the voice on the other end of the line. Shelly sat on the side of the bed and dangled her feet. The voice went on for five solid minutes, incoherently babbling about That Man! Shelly's soft lips twisted. Yes, Craig Talbot probably was a "that-man" type for whom to work, what little Shelly had seen of him. Miss Cobb was going on and on—about all sorts of things. Waiting rooms, particularly. Lists—and appointments—and, oh, a dozen things which meant nothing to Shelly.

But she did understand that Miss Cobb had quit her job. She was talking from her home—her father's home. "I like to work, Mrs. Carr. I like working for Dr. Stephen. But I don't have to work, and I want you to know that nothing will make me go back into that office while that man is there."

"All right, Miss Cobb," said Shelly firmly. "I understand." She didn't, of course, but—"And thank you for calling me. I'll see you sometime soon."

"You don't owe me any money, Mrs. Carr. I wrote my own check. And I mean to write to the doctor and explain."

"Oh, no!" said Shelly, quickly. "We will not bother the doctor with our affairs and troubles here at home, Miss Cobb."

"But—"

"We'll let him believe that things are going on as usual here. That's what I do when the water heater plays out—and, you know, little mishaps in the home—so I'd appreciate it if you wouldn't write to him that you'd left his office. There's the matter of morale, you know."

"Oh, yes, of course!" said the woman contritely. "I just didn't think."

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The Bricker group's campaign against secret presidential negotiation of treaties and agreements with foreign nations has been an extremely inept affair. Although seeking a simple objective, it lacked the imaginative fire and drive of the 1919-1920 Senate irreconcilables' successful fight against the United States entry into the League of Nations. The Ohio senator was a poor substitute for a McCreary, Johnson or La Follette.

In his argument against repetitions of the Yalta and Potsdam agreements, which inspired Senator Bricker's constitutional amendment, he cited two pacts which had only a limited public, political or economic interest. He did not base his attack on popular issues which were readily available.

Had he shown how the broad grants of certain provisions of the United Nations charter infringed on the statutes and ordinances of states and cities, including California and District of Columbia laws now involved in Supreme Court litigation, Congress would not have dared to water down his original proposal, which he introduced with the support of 63 colleagues, or the two-thirds membership required for Senate endorsement.

RELiance —Bricker, unfortunately for his cause, first relied on an international treaty for the regulation of migratory birds. Although the Constitution seems to vest authority over this question in the states, the Supreme Court upheld the shift of control to the federal government.

In the first place, only a relatively small number of hunting and conservation interests were ever troubled by the question of whether Uncle Sam or the 48 states should pass upon the length of the shooting seasons, the size of a day's bag or the management of game preserves. Moreover, even those who originally opposed federal jurisdiction now concede that it has been beneficial.

NEXT MOVE—When the plight of the birds excited nobody but the Ohioan, he turned to the Pinkies. Louis H. Pink was the New York state superintendent ent of insurance who refused to turn the deposits of a Russian-organized bank to the federal government on order of F. D. R. Former President Roosevelt, in the agreement recognizing the Soviet, had agreed that the bank's funds should be used to satisfy American claims against Moscow.

The Supreme Court's 5-2 decision against Pink attracted so little attention outside legal and banking circles that it had been forgotten until Bricker resuscitated it. Relatively few depositors were affected. In short, like the migratory ducks, it was a dud as an issue.

PERTINENT—And yet, only across the plaza from the Senate, the Supreme Court has under consideration two extremely pertinent cases involving the U. N. charter's possible abrogation of domestic law. So delicate and far-reaching are they that the high tribunal has deferred decision, so constitutional lawyers believe, pending congressional action on the proposed Bricker amendment.

The first involves the California land law barring ownership of property to Orientals. The petitioner, a Japanese family, contended that the statute violated the charter's provision for protection of minorities against discrimination. The same clause has been invoked by District of Columbia litigants in their fight on racial segregation laws. It has also been raised against real estate covenants with restrictive provisions.

NO FLOUTING — Not even Dean Acheson, although a U. N. zealot, was willing to support the attack on the California statute when he was secretary of state. When asked to intervene on behalf of the Japanese plaintiff, he notified the Department of Justice that he did not agree with the contention. It is understood that Secretary Dulles follows the same policy.

Even though Bricker's failure to cite these current and human appeal cases may mean dilution of his proposal, he has not lost altogether. Ike will not flout Congress as F. D. R. and Truman did in handling foreign affairs.

Girl Scout Troops Make Kits For Korean Scouts

Senior Troop 10 Sets Up Display

Kits for Korea, a nation-wide project of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., is being enthusiastically supported by troops in Circleville and Pickaway County, it was reported today by Mrs. Robert Weaver, Juliette Lowe chairman.

The girls are making drawstring bags of gaily colored cotton and filling them with small useful articles for the children of Korea. The bags are being filled with such things as a pocket comb, soap, tooth brush, safety pins, needle and thread, a hair ribbon and similar items that people here in the United States take for granted as daily necessities but which are almost non-existent in stripped and war-torn Korea.

Mrs. Weaver stated that 15 of the local troops have started work on Kits and so far have completed more than 15. These kits are displayed in the window of the B. F. Goodrich Company of E. Main St. The window was decorated by Senior Scout Troop 10, with Nancy Ann Barnhill, troop member, in charge of the display.

Monday has been set as the date of the first nation-wide in-gathering of Kits for Korea, Mrs. Weaver stated, and it is anticipated that more than 20 will be sent from this community to American Relief for Korea, the agency which is cooperating with the Girl Scouts in shipping the Kits abroad.

This date was selected for the first in-gathering, Mrs. Weaver said, because it is not only a great American patriotic holiday, but also a special occasion for Girl Scouts and Girl Scouts around the world. February 22 was the birthday of the late Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Scouting movement for both boys and girls. It is also the birthday of Lady Baden-Powell, World Chief Guide. It is observed as Thinking Day when Girl Scouts and Girl Scouts are especially aware of the mutual ideals and principles which form them into a world sisterhood. Many Scouts and Guides exchange cards or small gifts across the seas on Thinking Day, and Mrs. Weaver said that Kits for Korea make most appropriate gifts to send abroad on that day.

The Girl Scouts of Korea, a small, comparatively new, but very active organization, were consulted by the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., before the Kits for Korea project was established, Mrs. Weaver reported. It was at their suggestion that the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. collect and send the children of Korea the small necessities that are so scarce in that country. Above all, they said, put them in brightly colored containers to bring some cheer and gaiety into their lives. The Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. also consulted with American Relief for Korea to determine the kind of supplies that would be useful, easy to distribute, and to ship.

Presbyterian Women's Group B Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Sewell N. Dunton presided when Group B of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. George Barnes, N. Court St. Mrs. Bishop Given assisted the hostess.

Officers for the group are Mrs. Sewell N. Dunton, co-chairman, with Mrs. Arthur M. Newton; treasurer, Mrs. Leland Pontius; secretary, Mrs. W. L. Mack; program committee, Mrs. Robert Adkins, Mrs. George Barnes and Mrs. Hulse Hays; membership, Mrs. David Harmon; sales tax stamps, Miss Martha Warner, and press, Mrs. W. L. Mack.

It was reported by Mrs. Adkins that Mrs. Fred Christian has accepted an invitation to come to an association meeting in June as guest speaker.

Devotionals were conducted by Mrs. Adkins, who chose Job, chapter 28, verses 12 to 23.

Mrs. Adkins introduced Mrs. Donald Mitchell, who gave a talk on "Why You Are a Presbyterian" and "What Is That Presbyterian Stand For Particularly?" Mrs. Mitchell concluded her talk by saying, "The Faith we cherish is the important thing, and the important thing is to be a member of God's family."

Next meeting will be held at 2 p. m. March 15 in the home of Mrs. David Harmon of S. Court St.

Sweet-and-Pungent Duckling, A Royal Recipe for a Royal Fowl

MOST of the ducks raised for food in the United States are Peking ducks, direct descendants of the Imperial Chinese Emperor's ducks, no less. They're nice, easy-going ducks and they love to eat, which makes them all the easier to fatten up for you, my dears. And if you agree that royal fowl deserves a royal treatment, try this recipe for Sweet-and-Pungent Duckling, served with warm rolls and plenty of piping-hot coffee.

Each delicious portion is one-quarter of a duckling. It is quartered before cooking and roasted in the ordinary manner. However, while cooking, it is doused with an ambrosial mixture compounded of honey and grapefruit juice, among other ingredients. This way, each portion acquires a firm, rosy glaze, making all the difference in the world in the way it looks as well as in the way it tastes. In serving, the sweet-pungent theme can be carried through with a decorative garnish of grapefruit sections and maraschino cherries. Duckling prepared in this manner is one of those dishes that coffee "goes with" to perfection. Make lots of coffee at the beginning of the meal and serve it as a fitting companion to the succulent descendants of the Emperor's ducks. And be sure there's enough in the coffee-pot for another round after the meal is over.

Sweet-and-Pungent Duckling
2 five-pound ducklings, quartered
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1/2 cup vinegar
1/2 cup honey
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
Grapefruit sections
Maraschino cherries

Here Are Times To Do Trimming

As the days warm up, there is a great urge to get out and trim everything within reach. It is time to trim grapes. Trim back the new growth of last year to two or three eyes. The fruit comes on the first and second eye; further out there is only foliage.

Most fruit trees need only to have interfering limbs trimmed out or to be thinned out so that more light can get to fruits nearer the center of the tree.

Shade trees seldom need topping. As they grow, remove the lower limbs to let in enough light so that grass can grow underneath. Maples had best have their trimming delayed until the leaves start. Trim evergreens in July.

Tea roses should be trimmed after the buds begin to swell, then the cut heals quickly. Climbing roses should be cut back very severely, just after they have bloomed.

The old and darker canes should be cut out of raspberries after they have fruited. Late summer and fall blooming shrubs can be pruned back in the Spring but Spring blooming shrubs like forsythia and spirea should not be trimmed until after they have bloomed.

Monroe Township Group Will Meet

The Monroe Township Area Home Demonstration club will have an all day session at 9:30 a. m. Friday in the Ladies Aid Hall in Five Points. During the morning a basketry workshop will be supervised by Mrs. Winifred Bidwell and Mrs. Ralph Dennis.

After a noon time sack luncheon, Mrs. Leora Sayre, home demonstration agent, will present the project, "What's New In Textiles." Homemakers in the area are cordially invited to attend.

Grange Members Will Be Honored

Washington Grange will hold a special program at 7:30 p. m. Thursday honoring Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Reid on their 60th wedding anniversary.

The program is to follow a regular business meeting of the Grange in Washington Township school. Mrs. Loring Leist is in charge of arrangements.

This program was erroneously reported as having been held during the last meeting.

Will Robins Affect Average U.S. Consumer

Next Month To Tell If Buyer Gives Spring Lift To Businessmen

NEW YORK (AP)—Watch how the consumer reacts to the robins.

If he starts to buying more a month from now and gives business its usual spring lift, President Eisenhower says, all will be well and the administration's prescription for curing the recession by encouraging business will work as planned.

If the consumer doesn't—or can't—step up his buying, then the President proposes to tackle the recession from the other angle and give the consumer more encouragement—presumably by lightening his tax load.

So far, the idea has largely been that it is business and industry that provide jobs and, therefore, tax burdens on business should be eased, credit made readily available and at slightly lower interest rates. Business can stay healthy, or recover its health—and make more jobs.

The economy got a five-billion-dollar-a-year boost Jan. 1 when that amount of federal taxes was written off the books. Other tax easing for business is before Congress. The effect of this, however, has been mostly psychological—as witness the stock market—because so far the tax reforms are only a future promise, being still under debate in Congress.

But the number of those out of work continues to rise—is now officially admitted to be more than three million.

At the end of the year the total dollar value of the goods and services turned out in this country was dropping at the rate of six billion dollars a year. And the drop has continued this year.

Industrial production, which usually rises in January, dipped this time, and the February output of mines and mills and factories will doubtless be still lower.

Business failures have been rising. Chain stores report their sales in each of the last six months have been running behind the previous year's figures.

February has been turning out pretty much as predicted—most things a little off from January, and below a year ago. Commodity and stock prices have been about the only things, so far this month, to sidestep the traditional February drop.

But since most observers, including those in the administration, expected a drop in February, there has been little alarm. The economy keeps on giving every sign of continuing its orderly retreat from a war boom to normal peacetime positions.

All hands, however, have been counting on March and April to halt or slow down this retreat somewhat. Normally business picks up then.

Cave Explorers Leave Gear Behind

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (AP)—The next explorers entering Crystal cave's deep passages will be able to follow a trail of shoes, socks, sleeping bags, winter underwear and many other items.

Members of last week's seven-day expedition into the cave of mysteries left all excess when they headed for daylight Saturday.

In addition to wearing apparel, they abandoned two gasoline stoves, a substantial store of medical supplies, much food, canteens and other items worth hundreds of dollars inside the cave but mostly worthless outside.

Auto Goes Free With Sale Of TV

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—A Boise furniture dealer has reversed the field on the auto industry and is giving a used car free with each purchase of a television set.

"I figured that if they could give TV sets with cars, I could reverse it," said Mel Foster as he announced his one-week-only promotion.

The cars are 1946 models or older.

Mary Pickford Keeps Her Smile Because Irish Drank Goat Milk

NEW YORK (AP)—"Sure, the Irish drank goat's milk," said Mary Pickford. "That's how I have my vitality—because my ancestors drank goat's milk."

At 60, "America's Sweetheart" of yesterday still retains the simple charm that once made her the movie favorite of millions.

"I'm the busiest woman in Beverly Hills or any other hill," she said. "I have a big house to look after, and my husband, Buddy Rogers, and my business interests—and the children, Ronnie and Roxie."

Roxie will soon be 12, but she's already four inches taller than I am. She's horse crazy. But I'd rather look forward to her being horse crazy than boy crazy."

Mary is also active in half a dozen philanthropic and charitable enterprises. She recently completed her memoirs for a magazine, and said she would like—after 20 years away from the screen—to return in one last film.

"It would be the story of my brother's life," she said, "and end on that day in 1909 when I walked into the old Biograph studio and got my first movie job."

Mary rose from $40 to $10,000 a week in a few years, and piled up millions later producing her own films. This girl with the haunting face of a golden angel also had a cashbox mind.

"But I dislike business heartily," she said. "A lot of career women may not agree with me, but I don't think business is a woman's world."

Her long Cinderella story has had many bittersweet hours. Mary said she had enjoyed so many happy moments in her life she didn't know which to name first.

"But there is no doubt about my most miserable moment," she said.

"It was the moment my mother passed on in 1928."

Here is Mary Pickford looking back at her life—a reverie aloud:

"The greatest picture ever made: My choice would be 'Gone With the Wind.' Of my own pictures, I suppose I still like 'Tess of the Storm Country' best. I made it twice—in 1911 and 1922."

"The greatest geniuses of the motion picture have been Charlie Chaplin and Walt Disney. After them D. W. Griffith and Irving Thalberg. Irving had a bad heart. He walked with death at his back. He knew he had no time to waste on trivial things or things half done. He died young."

"I made 50-odd feature pictures. We do look ridiculous in them today. And sometimes I feel like destroying my old films. Those awful clothes we used to wear . . ."

"They can't compare with the pictures now, of course, but silent pictures did speak a universal language. I think we go in for too many sound effects now. The great ones avoid superfluous gestures and superfluous sound. But the great ones are all too few."

"They say the pioneers cut down the forests and make the roads and take the chances and then the gamblers come along and make the money."

"Chance plays so important a part in an actor's life he needs that lucky break in life more than a writer does, or a producer, or a director."

"You know, in all of us are two people. I've always been unpredictable, even to myself. Nothing really pleases me that I do. My real fear is to be left alone in the world. Most of my people have passed on. Most elderly people are passed by. That frightens me."

"But when the Lord loves you, He gives you an insight, an understanding."

And Mary, whose golden curls are only a memory, looked up with her sweetheart smile of long ago.

Excellent Driver Was Unlicensed

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A Tulsa motorist who told police he was "being very careful to drive good so as not to attract any attention" attracted lots of attention yesterday.

Officer Orval Bennett followed the car of motorist Troy James Bethany for three blocks enthralled at the fine driving performance. "I stopped to congratulate him on his good driving," said Bennett. But when he asked for his license, Bethany admitted he had been driving seven years without a license.

"I had no choice but to make the arrest under the circumstances," said the officer.

Circling Auto Causes Big Fuss

DETROIT (AP)—An automobile running in a circle kicked up an awful fuss at a street intersection last night.

After hitting the rear of another car, it zipped through a service station driveway, knocking over two gasoline pumps and a 15-foot light pole.

One pump caught fire. Station owner Joseph Jones' clothes caught fire from it. His hair and arms were singed.

The car kept going, carrying the flaming pump with it. Across the street it ripped off a fender while knocking over an air pump at another filling station.

It finally came to a stop back at the first station, narrowly missing Jones.

The driver, Mrs. Helen Ball, 37, was unhurt. Police booked her for investigation of drunk driving.

No New Surgery Seen For Godfrey

BOSTON (AP)—Arthur Godfrey's physician says the famous radio-TV star will not have to undergo a second hip operation "at the present time."

Dr. Otto E. Aufranc of Newton told newsmen last night:

"Godfrey has continued to improve and made good progress in the past two months. It now remains necessary to develop additional strength by exercise and rest before he will be allowed to discard crutches and cane. He will need to use both from time to time until he has developed necessary endurance."

World Today

By James Marlow
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If George Washington could hear his Farewell Address read in Congress today, would he make any changes in the advice he gave the nation in 1796?

It was advice which the nation has always honored but hasn't always followed.

Washington might revise his thinking about political parties, about which he had deep misgivings.

"There is an opinion," he said, "that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of government and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty."

He said he thought this was probably true "within certain limits" and he mentioned monarchies as an example, but he added that in a government like this party spirit "is a spirit not to be encouraged."

At the time he wrote there was only one party, the Federalists, led by Alexander Hamilton and representing the monied and commercial interests of the East. It wasn't long afterwards that the Republicans, under Thomas Jefferson, rose up, smashed the Federalists, and set the two-party system in motion. These Republicans were the forerunners of the present Democratic party.

It was the rise of political parties which, by keeping any class or faction from controlling too long, probably was the main force in preserving the democratic American society which Washington wanted preserved.

Washington's advice to this country to stay out of entangling foreign alliances made his Farewell Address a hymn book for American isolationists. And for more than 100 years his advice was followed.

"Europe," he said, "has a set of primary interests which to us have none or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns."

But he didn't lay down isolationism as a blanket rule. He foresaw the time when this country might have to make alliances:

"Taking care always to keep ourselves by suitable establishments on a respectable defensive posture, we may safely trust to temporary alliances for extraordinary emergencies."

What is an extraordinary emergency? This country thought it saw one in World Wars I and II, when it made alliances, and after World War II when it joined the Atlantic Pact with Western Europe against Russia, although it might be argued the Atlantic Pact is hardly temporary.

But Washington's advice was discarded when this country joined the United Nations after World War II to try to preserve peace and stop aggression anywhere on earth.

And what would Washington think of Secretary of State Dulles' notice that the Communists would be paid back with massive retaliation if they attacked anywhere? There is nothing isolationist in that.

But when Washington wrote his Farewell Address the threat of world communism wasn't even a gleam in the eye of any Russian or Chinese alive then. If Washington were alive now he might con-

Cop Would Rather Be Had Been Sorry

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A trash collector found what looked like, and ticked like, a bomb in a downtown alley yesterday. He called police.

Police called their crime laboratory director, Ray Pinker, and Army demolition experts.

A policeman stuck a nail into the clock part of the contraption, to stop the ticking. The "bomb" was taken to a field. Police Chief William Parker and Deputy Chief Thad Brown arrived.

A Geiger counter was used—negative results. Then the device was tied to a stake. A 50-foot rope was tied to the clock and from a safe distance it was yanked out of the "bomb."

It turned out to be a $1.95 alarm clock, sponge rubber, rags, paraffin, paper and beeswax.

"I think we've been had," said Brown.

"I'd rather be had than sorry," said Parker.

PARIS (AP)—The state-subsidized Comedie Francaise, French classical theater troupe, has scheduled 20 performances in the Soviet Union during April.

He's Big Shorty

DALLAS (AP)—The police radio, broadcasting a wanted report on a forgery suspect, described him as 6 feet 5 inches tall. His nickname: Shorty.

New System Set

MIDDLETOWN (AP)—A new traffic light and one-way street system went into effect here yesterday.

sider it necessary—as Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower did—to have foreign allies.

Maybe he wouldn't. And, since history isn't all written yet, maybe he was right all the time.

Freedoms Foundation Cites 187 U.S. Citizens, Groups

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—Freedoms Foundation today cited 187 American citizens, organizations and schools for "outstanding work for freedom" during 1953.

Among those honored were several Ohio individuals and organizations. They included:

Wilmington College: George Washington Honor Medal ($100) for its campus program.

The Rev. K. M. Glaesner of Springfield for his sermon "What Price Glory" George Washington medal.

The Rev. J. V. Edwards for his sermon "The Challenge of Freedom." George Washington medal and $50.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. for its program "The Ohio Story."

Fremont High School, Coshocton Central Junior High School, Mansfield St. Peters High School, Marion Taft Junior High School, College of Steubenville.

At ceremonies in a flag-draped Revolutionary War barn within sight of hallowed Valley Forge, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the President of the United States, presented the awards.

Cited for special mention and presented with George Washington Honor Medal Awards, commemorating today's birthday anniversary of America's first President, were the Boy Scouts of America, News Magazine of the Screen and the Reader's Digest.

Dr. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State University, said the special awards were in recognition "of extraordinary merit in the nation's interest."

Freedoms Foundation, a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-political group incorporated in 1949, estimated the 1953 awards are worth $75,000, about $20,000 of it in cash.

The organization is dedicated "to maintain the American way of life" and honor those groups or individuals who develop "new programs which further a better understanding of the American system."

Greenhorn Robbed

DALLAS (AP)—The Greenhorn Packing Co. complained rustlers took four cows from its pens here.

Re-Burial Planned

HAIFA (AP)—An Israeli warship will go to France next month to bring the bodies of Baron and Baroness Edmond de Rothschild here for burial. The baron, who died in 1934, promoted Jewish colonization of Palestine.

School Of Air

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio School of the Air will begin its second series of educational telecasts on March 1, over WTVN, Ohio State University says.

The series, called "Science Around Us," will discuss science at fourth, fifth and sixth grade levels. The programs can be viewed in Columbus, Chillicothe, Circleville, Springfield, Dayton, Washington C. H., Logan, Lancaster, Marion and Newark. Several schools used the first School of the Air program for classroom study.

Big Mixer Stolen

HAMILTON (AP)—A concrete mixer, and orange-colored at that, has been stolen from Richard Banker, Butler County sheriff's deputies are hunting for it.

Strange Sleeper Is Found In Bed

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Giles F. Spiva protested to police who awakened him from his snooze that "it was all a big mistake."

The officers were summoned by Charles Lindsay, who said there was a strange man asleep in his bed.

Spiva, 29, told police he had lived at that house six months ago and had just made a mistake. He was led to jail to finish his nap there on a drunkenness count.

Willow Sapling Brings Man Death

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP)—A Stubbhorn willow sapling, crushed to the ground by a bulldozer, snapped back like an arrow yesterday after the machine had passed over it and speared a farm worker who was walking behind.

The victim, Jess Lee Henry, 22, was struck in the chest and died before reaching a hospital.

The bulldozer, operated by Henry's father, was clearing brush from the farmland.

Church Aid Sought

LONDON (AP)—Britons are pushing a campaign to raise $11 million in the next 10 years to save the nation's historic churches. Many of the structures were damaged by war.

Does Your Farm Loan Have These Six Advantages?

1. Low interest rate for a long term?
2. Regular payments that cut down the principal as you go?
3. Permission to make extra payments in good years?
4. Privilege of arranging smaller payments in bad years?
5. A lender who will be in business for the life of the loan?
6. Small enough installments so you can pay them when your income drops?

You may secure a Federal Land Bank loan that has all of these features through the—

NOTICE

MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

The Circleville Municipal Civil Service Commission will hold an examination on

MON., MARCH 1, 1954

At 7:00 O'Clock P. M., in the Council Chamber in the City of Circleville, Ohio, for the purpose of:

SERGEANT OF POLICE DEPARTMENT

and

to fill an Eligible List.

Blank applications may be secured at the office of Commission in the City Building or from any member of the Commission, and must be returned not later than 7:00 p. m. Thursday, February 25, 1954. The law requires that a fee of $1.00 be charged for all examinations where the salary exceeds $1000.00 per year.

Applicants must be resident voters of Pickaway County. Applicants for patrolman of the Police Department must be between the ages of 21 and 31 years.

For information as to salaries, etc., inquire of Tom A. Renick, Chairman; Luther Bower, Vice Chairman; or V. L. Hawkes, Secretary.

Cheer Leaders Aid County Heart Fund

Cheer leaders for all the Pickaway County League basketball teams won high praise Monday from officials conducting the 1954 Heart Fund Campaign.

During intermissions between games at the big County Tournament in the Fairgrounds Coliseum, the cheer leaders have been canvassing the big crowds with heart fund money containers and have been successful in a big way in providing substantial aid for the county Heart Fund. On the first night of their work, a total of $78.80 was collected.

FALUN, Sweden (AP) — Russian skiers prepared to return to Moscow today with the lion's share of world's Nordic skiing titles and no intention of testing their strength again in Alpine events of the world's championships at Are, Sweden, starting Saturday.

The Russians, who competed for the first time in a major international ski contest, ran off with four titles—30 kilometers, 50 kilometers, 10 kilometers for ladies, and 15 kilometer relay for ladies.

"We are not ready yet to enter such a heavily contested event," one Russian said of the Are events.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Will Taylor of Chillicothe took over the lead in the all-events division of the men's state bowling tournament here yesterday.

His score of 1,906 is five better than Artie Pubba of Akron, in second place. And his score is 156 better than the leading woman bowler, Pauline Bayer of Miamisburg. Ev Eble of Canton is second in the women's all-event competition with 1,651.

Jaycees Win 73-65 Over Capital Five

A community-combination basketball outfit billed as the Circleville Jaycees defeated the 166th Infantry Service Company of Columbus 73-65 in a Sunday cage tilt in the Ashville High School gym.

The Jaycees, whose team was made up of both Circleville and Ashville players, took an early lead over the visitors during a drive that was sparked by Charles Morrison and Lowell Rader. These men paced the winners with 24 and 18 points, respectively, while Lawrence Nance racked up 20 for the losers.

Plastic Girl Must Have Plastic Mind To Cope With New Modeling

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (P) — Twenty-five men a day ask pretty Pat Mattemson this question:

"Are you made of plastic?"

"No, I'm sorry to say," replies Pat, gallantly smiling in an effort to make each man think he has said something terribly funny.

er. It would take her about three hours."

There is a growing interest in sports cars. In the first few days of the show here sales passed the million dollar mark. Since then, the car Pat is demonstrating sells for the $3,750-$4,000 class, and foreign cars are priced up to $75,000, obviously the market is among teenage hot rodders.

Pat, who is 24 and comes from Chicago, is getting to be tops in a new kind of professional modeling. Girls used to model hats, clothes, or as they grew older costumes. Today they also help sell new models of machinery (anything from the better mousetrap to the finer steamshovel) and they have to do more than merely look lovely. They have to know what they're talking about, so they can explain it to the public.

Pat has been answering 500 questions a day at the International Motor Sports here. She is demonstrating a new auto, one of the first plastic American sports car put into assembly line production.

Cars with plastic bodies are still a mystery to most motorists. They want to know if the plastic will dent if people lean on it, whether snow will melt the plastic, whether hot water will make a hole in it, or whether insects will become permanently embedded in it.

"But a motorist can repair a fender dent in the same way he'd patch a tire. And he can fix it so it doesn't show."

"If a lady wants to change the color of the plastic body to match her hat, gloves or a new dress, she can do so by spraying on a new paint with a vacuum clean-

Identical Twins On Different Teams Are Double Trouble

BROOKLYN (P)—One of the most asked baseball questions is: How fast can a ball be pitched from the mound to the plate?

The answer is: Between 85 and 90 miles an hour. This is according to a series of tests conducted last year at Ebbets Field. A cathode-ray oscillograph was used

Lost Close Ones

NEW YORK (AP)—The old baseball adage that the club winning the close games usually wins the pennant didn't hold up in the American League in 1953. The Yankees, who won their fifth straight pennant, played only .50 in games decided by one run. They won 18 of these tight contests and lost 18.

Isn't so unusual to see a set of twins playing basketball, but it is somewhat of an oddity when they perform for opposing teams.

Norman is a Rutgers forward, while twin brother Edward performs at a guard spot for John Hopkins. The Habermans are juniors, 20 years old, and stand 6-2.

A writer covering the game was overheard as he remarked, "The only way you can tell 'em apart is by the uniforms."

Lions Club Sight-Saving Plan Gains New Impetus In Schools

Cooperation Of Specialists Is Praised Here

Work To Be Extended To County Schools In About Two Weeks

(Editor's Note: This is the second of a series of articles on the Circleville Lions Club's outstanding civic welfare project which currently is being conducted in the city and county schools).

By NEIL SHAW
Herald Staff Writer

High praise for the cooperation of parents, teachers, school officials, and Circleville optometrists and oculists was expressed Monday by the Lions Club as it entered its third week of a countywide Sight-Saving program.

So far, with the use of an American Optical Company electrically-operated Sight-Screener, the eyes of more than 200 Circleville grade school boys and girls have been accurately checked and graded.

Wes Edstrom, who is chairman of the Lions Club Sight-Saving Committee, personally is continuing with the eye tests in the Circleville High School Auditorium and it was he who said Monday that the program generally is exceeding all expectations.

"As the word goes around among the pupils," Edstrom explained, "they are becoming fully aware of the value of the project. The same goes for the parents and teachers, who are becoming more enthusiastic as time goes along."

AT THE same time, Edstrom stressed the cooperation being given by Circleville optometrists and oculists, who check and grade the report cards free of charge after Edstrom conducts the examinations.

Where any minor or major attention is needed by a boy or girl, the information is relayed to parents, the teachers and school officials.

It is often discovered that a pupil's school work makes a radical change for the better if an eye defect is discovered and corrected.

The Lions Club project was begun the week of Feb. 7, and will be extended into the Pickaway County schools in about two weeks.

Edstrom and Monty Lambert, president of the local Lions Club, pointed out that "in the legal profession, there's a saying that the lawyer who tries his own case has a fool for a client. Be that as it may," they continued, "the Better Vision Institute says the layman who attempts to prescribe his own eye-glasses is definitely and dangerously misguided."

THESE TWO men and other members of the organization emphasized that only a highly trained eye-sight specialist is capable of determining a person's individual visual needs and providing the proper glasses, if any are required.

"Every state in the Union recognizes the intricate complexities of eye-care to the extent of requiring specialists to meet rigid standards of educational training," Edstrom said, "and sees that they practice under strict licensing and regulation. And yet, the ready-made, run-of-the-mill spectacles are sold in most of the country, just as they were sold in the horse-and-buggy days, when modern eye-care was not available!"

Edstrom went on to say that "this is a strange inconsistency which should be corrected by legislation. But people are deceived by the misstatements and half-truths being circulated in the interests of ready-made glasses. The premise is that men and women with 'middle-aged vision' only need simple reading glasses, which they can readily choose for themselves."

It was pointed out that something the same fallacy may be existing regarding school boys and girls, whose studies and home work may be vitally affected by sight defects.

This basic fundamental of giving early reports of needed correction or attention is the backbone of the Lions Club program, which has the full endorsement of city and county school officials.

She Dodges Brick, Is Hit By Auto

SAPULPA, Okla. (AP)—A 58-year-old wife dodged a brick thrown at her by her 60-year-old husband yesterday but stepped into the path of an oncoming car and was injured seriously, the state highway patrol reported.

A. M. Rivers was charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. Mrs. Rivers suffered a broken leg, internal injuries and shock.

The 19-year-old youth driving the car which struck Mrs. Rivers told troops he was on his way to their home to meet the couple's daughter for a date.

Entry Into Jail Brings Added Rap

BALTIMORE (AP)—Robert F. Connally's troubles multiplied when he landed in jail here yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $25.

Police checked his record and found seven traffic tickets consolidated into four warrants for his arrest.

They told the 52-year-old prisoner he'll have to take care of the tickets before he can get out of jail.

Local Soldier Had Role In Returning Anti-Red POW's

PFC Marvin E. Thompson, whose wife, Margaret, lives on Route 4, Circleville, is a wrecker operator in the Army's 504th Transportation Truck Company, which recently took part in the return of anti-communist Chinese prisoners in Korea.

Army trucks, which Thompson followed to take care of any mechanical trouble, carried more than 14,000 Chinese from Panmunjom to the port city of Inchon.

Formerly employed here by the Container Co., he entered the Army in November 1952 and completed basic training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., before transferring overseas last May.

Address Corrected

It was incorrectly reported in a recent article concerning the Circleville Elks Lodge that J. C. Haswell, only living charter member of the lodge, was living in Columbus. Haswell makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. Melvin Yates, of 390 E. Union St.

FFA Youth's Ewe Has Four Lambs

A 3-year old ewe owned by Ernie Martin of Circleville Route 3 gave birth recently to four lambs, all of them reported still living. The Shropshire ewe was bred to a Dorset ram.

Young Martin, senior at Walnut Township school and vice-president of the local Future Farmers of America unit, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Martin.

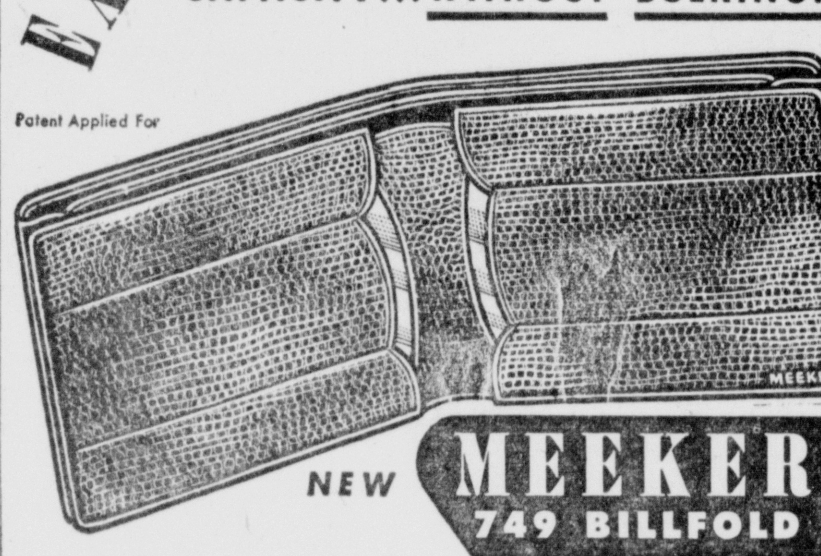

His Vo-Ag sheep flock project consists of nine ewes, one ram and eight lambs.
